BOARD APPROVES PLAN FOR ACADEMIC BUILDING

Pres. Bullard Asks For Two Federal Grants

New $750,000 Structure
Would Be Adjacent To Administration Building

Preliminary plans for a proposed new academic instructional building have been approved by the Board of Governors of West Virginia University and realization of the structure now hinges on approval of necessary funds for the $750,000 structure.

President Todd H. Bullard has applied for two grants from the Federal Government to be used to match money available from the Capital Improvement Fund, a joint fund of West Virginia University and Potomac State College.

The proposed building, which would be located adjacent to the Administration Building, in the space now being used as a parking area, would permit all classes now meeting on the first and second floors of the Administration Building to be moved into new quarters, with the vacated areas to be used for much-needed office space.

The new building would provide improved instructional facilities for study in the occupational fields as well as allow expansion in occupational programs. The new facility would also permit the college to serve at least 200-300 more students as enrollments increase.

If funds for the new building are secured construction is expected to get underway in the spring of 1968 with the expected completion date being the early summer of 1969.

...WHEN OL' GRADS GET TOGETHER

Representing the Golden Anniversary group are: Richard M. Douglas and B. J. Davis, both of Cumberland, Md., and the latter's brother, Raymond Davis, of Gettysburg, Pa. Joining them at the coffee hour was Bayard Taylor, Burlington, who was unable to remain for the luncheon.

Seated are Miss Myra Nefflen ('09), Keyser; Arthur Frankland, McMullen Highway, and Mrs. Lora Harvey, Gorman, both from the Class of 1912.

Rain Dominates Scene At Homecoming But Activities Proceed Without A Hitch

Adhering to tradition, the rains came down last October 12, to dampen the campus but not the spirits of hundreds of former students who returned to their Alma Mater for the annual homecoming celebration.

Inclement weather forced cancellation of the parade but other activities in the jam-packed weekend proceeded without a hitch. There was a thuse on Friday night, a coffee hour and registration on Saturday, followed by the homecoming luncheon, the football game which the Catamounts won over Shenandoah (Va.) 34-23, an after-game reception, and the homecoming ball.

During the business meeting new officers were chosen for the Alumni Foundation and several new board members were elected for the Association.

Re-elected to head the Foundation were: Joseph W. Kessel, president; Mrs. Dawn (Siever) Jeffries, vice president; and Kenneth F. Haines, secretary-treasurer. Board members representing the faculty and administration are Mrs. Elizabeth (Parker) Hanlin, Jasper T. Morris, and Mrs. Ann (Hollen) Pamer; representing the alumni at large: Donald Maybury and Edward Beams.

Alumni association officers still having one year to serve are: Thomas J. Conlon, president; Joseph W. Kessel, vice-president; and Kenneth F. Haines, secretary-treasurer. Board members for the association are: Mrs. Mary Evelyn (Sliger) Coffman, Junior Haines, Gary L. Keedy, and Margaret (Dorsey) Stanislawczyk.

The nominating committee consisted of Dr. Robert W. Bess Jr., chairman, Dr. Harry W. Boggs, and Margaret (Greenwade) Coleman.

Many alumni, faculty members, and students combined their efforts to help sponsor the weekend activities which were coordinated by Mrs. Robert T. Coffman, director of alumni affairs.

Fine Arts Building Work On Schedule

Work on the new Fine Arts Building and auditorium, which began last March 22, is proceeding on schedule and it is hoped that the structure will be ready for occupancy by the early fall of 1967.

President Todd H. Bullard said the building, located at the corner of B and Arnold Streets, should be finished by mid summer and would be used for instructional purposes in the fall of the year. Official dedication ceremonies are expected to take place shortly after the opening of the fall semester.

TEACHING IN ARKANSAS

Mrs. Norman E. Rodgers, former English professor at PSC, is now teaching at Arkansas State Teachers College. Friends may write her at Box 340, Normanstone Dr., Grandview Heights, Rt. 3, Conway, Ark. 72032.
